

Trying To Be Like God

Adult Sunday School Taught by: Joanna Kline

Starts: March 12

Place: Fellowship Hall

Time: 9:30-10:15 a.m.

The opening chapters of Genesis lay the foundation for the whole biblical narrative. While many of the stories found in these chapters are familiar—Adam and Eve, and Cain and Abel, Noah and the flood, the tower of Babel—they also contain enigmatic details and provoke interpretive questions.

In this series, we will take a close look at Genesis 1-11, paying special attention to the theme of people trying to be "like God." This Lenten exploration of Genesis aims to bring fresh insights on the messages of these texts and their relevance for understanding human nature and the character of God.
